

Office of Child Care and Family Resources
SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

July, 2019

Keeping UW-Madison Families Informed

---

Thank you for reading! Our monthly Parent Newsletter is designed to keep UW-Madison parents connected and informed with happenings and resources on campus. I will include parenting tips, ideas, events, etc! Please send me any information that you think other families would enjoy seeing in our newsletter!

Family Tip of the Month

Talk to an Infant Specialist! For Free!

Are you wiped out? Worried your baby has colic? Uncertain about the way your baby is crying, sleeping, or feeding?

If you are looking for extra support, then call The Fussy Baby Network! If you are stressed and can't put your baby down...call!

NO JUDGEMENT. JUST HELP!
No issue is too small for a worried parent.

FUSSY BABY NETWORK

Erickson Institute

1-888-431-2229

or email:

fussybaby@erikson.edu

Monday through Friday,

9am-5pm

It's FREE!

The infant specialists are there to help you! No judging! They are available Monday through Friday, 9am-5pm. They will respond to after hour calls the next business day.

English OR Spanish!

Selecting a Provider for Your Child

Choosing child care is an important decision! It can be difficult and confusing to know what to look for in a program. The following lists offer you suggestions of what to ask and what to look for when seeking child care!

Telephone Interview Questions and Tips

Visiting and Interviewing Family Child Care Providers

Visiting and Interviewing Group Centers

Child Care Checklist

Some additional resources for parents looking for quality child care:

What is Quality Child Care?

Choosing Your New Provider

Levels of Child Care Regulations in Wisconsin

Transitioning to Child Care

---

DAD FOUND THE ULTIMATE
WAY TO KEEP HIS KID BUSY

Kids in the Rotunda

Overture Center for the Arts

Saturdays
October through April
9:30am, 11am, 1pm

Click here to see the 2019-2020 line-up!

From award-winning folk singers and zany jugglers to friendly furry animals and traditional Indian dancing, our popular Kids in the Rotunda series for families is sure to engage, educate and entertain your whole family. Enjoy a diverse lineup of FREE local, regional and national performers selected exclusively for children ages nine and younger and their families. 45-minute performances are each weekend in the Rotunda Stage and are first-come, first-seated.

100 ways to have fun with your kids.
This month's idea is to...

go to the zoo!

FOLLOW US FOR MORE GREAT INFORMATION!

UW Office of Child Care and Family Resources
608-265-9123
jen.dittrich@wisc.edu
www.occf.wisc.edu